TORTURED TO DEATH

Religious Fanatics Said to Have Caused Woman's Death.

SECT OF THE PARHAMITES

To Show Their Belief in Their Religion Woman Was Forced to Undergo Tortures Until She Finally Succumbed.

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Five people, members of the sect of Parhamites, are under arrest in Zion City accused of torturing to death Mrs. Letitia Greenhaugh, 61 years of age, a cripple for twenty years, to show their belief in the religion they profess.

The persons under arrest are Walter and Jennie Greenhaugh, the son and daughter of the woman; Harold Mitchell, Mrs. Harold Mitchell and a Mrs. Smith. All of them are accused of manslaughter.

Mrs. Greenhaugh had been for 20 years an invalid, suffering from paralysis and rheumatism.

The sect of Parhamites was founded about a year ago by Charles Parham and number about 200 persons. The members of the sect originally belonged to Dowd's church and believe in the gift of tongues, and especially in infallible possession. It is their theory that sickness is an evidence of the possession of the body by evil spirits.

The condition of Mrs. Greenhaugh convinced her son and daughter and the three persons associated with them that she must be possessed of the devil, and they determined to exorcise the evil spirit. The five knelt by the bedside and after praying commenced their work. The arms of Mrs. Greenhaugh, stiffened by rheumatism, were twisted about in order that the devil might be driven out. The cries of the aged woman were considered to be those of an evil spirit and were greeted with triumphant shouts.

After a course of this violent treatment, Mrs. Greenhaugh not only became so weak that she could not use her limbs, but became incapable of making any motions. Then her neck was twisted and for some time this treatment was kept up.

Walter Greenhaugh testified at the coroner's inquest that Mitchell and his wife had a vision in which Mitchell was ordered to quit work and devote his time in casting out the demons from the sick. Young Greenhaugh declared that his mother's consent was obtained before the treatment was commenced.

Mrs. Smith's part in the treatment, according to the testimony before the coroner's jury consisted in raising Mrs. Greenhaugh's head and holding her while Mitchell and his wife attempted to straighten the woman's limbs which had been twisted by years of rheumatism.

Greenhaugh broke down and cried as he told his story. He declared that for some time his mother bore the treatment bravely, but at last the agony became so great that she could not restrain herself and she cried "O Lord, help me," a number of times.

The case will be further investigated by the authorities of Lake county, in which Zion City is situated.

"I am Innocent," Said Harrison.

St. Louis, Sept. 21.—An order of Joshua Harrison, who committed suicide while officers were waiting to carry him to begin upon a twenty-year sentence for kidnapping and murdering the son of former North Carolina State Senator Beasley, was on Thursday sent to Jarvisburg, N. C., for burial. In a note found, Harrison said: "I am an innocent man. God knows my family know it. I am about to end my life. No one is in any way responsible save the cruel ones who imposed that awful sentence."

Railroad Doubles Capital.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 20.—The Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie railroad has filed amended articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. The capital stock is increased from $21,000,000 to $42,000,000.

DOG BALKED BODY SNATCHER.

Canine Faithfully Guarded the Corpse of His Mistress.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 21.—A daring attempt to steal the corpse of Mrs. L. L. Northstone who died of a disease that attending physicians and the county coroner could not diagnose, was prevented by a house dog which snatched the dead woman seated in an adjoining room. A white man of professional appearance was just climbing into a window from which the glass had been removed, when the watchers rushed into the room in which the corpse lay. On the lawn stood a negro in livery, while a third man was attending the team attached to an undertaker's wagon.

The men hastily mounted the cart and drove away at breakneck speed, followed by revolver shots from policemen, who had been attracted to the scene. Information has been lodged against a prominent practitioner whom those on watch claimed they recognized as the man trying to climb into the window.

The attempt is one of the boldest ever known in this city, where, prior to the passage of the state law giving the bodies of paupers to science, body-snatching was common. Those concerned did not even take the trouble to remove the metal name plate of the undertaker from the cart, and it has furnished the police with the best clue.

MANIA TO KILL SEIZED HIM.

Man Slays Another Whom He Had Never Seen Before.

Danville, Ky., Sept. 21.—Thursday Harvey Watts, a lumberman representing a Tennessee firm, walked into the passenger depot at King's Mountain, and placing his grip upon the floor, called Agent W. B. Vandiver and asked him to open it. Vandiver complied with the request and Watts took a pistol from the grip, remarking:

"Now, you have opened the grip; I will open you."

He fired, and the ball entered Vandiver's head, killing him instantly. Watts fled to Knobs, north of King's Mountain. Vandiver was a native of Harrodsburg, Ky., and belongs to a prominent family.

An officer later found Watts hiding in a hollow stump. He offered no resistance. When questioned about the murder he stated that he had never before seen Vandiver, and was unable to account for his action. Watts was taken to the Stanford jail for safe-keeping.

Woman Killed at LaGrange.

LaGrange, Ga., Sept. 21.—Thursday about 10 minutes before 6 o'clock p. m., Mrs. Narsie Claxton, an aged woman at Unity Mills, was run over and almost instantly killed by a passenger train on the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad while crossing the track. Mrs. Claxton lived only about twenty minutes after the accident. She was 67 years old, and was the mother of Rev. Louis Claxton, pastor of the Baptist church at Dixie. She had been living with her daughter.

Was Boy Kidnaped?

New York, Sept. 21.—Another Italian kidnaping case that has puzzled the police for a month, has been solved. Nicola Tomaso, 4 years old, son of a bootblack in east Houston street, was found standing in front of a house in Fifth avenue. The boy said a man named Tony had taken him and two little girls and another boy away on a long trolley ride, and told him to wait on the street until he came back. The policeman found him while waiting. Nicolas' father got many threatening letters before the boy disappeared on Aug. 19.

May Die of Blood Poison.

New York, Sept. 21.—Roseben, peerless sprinter among the thoroughbreds of America, is dying. It is feared, of blood poisoning. David Johnson, his owner, and Frank Welt, his trainer, have slight hopes of his recovery. The champion's illness is due to a stone bruise. During his race over the Sheepshead Bay track which he won easily, he picked up a stone and this cut and bruised one of his legs so badly that the injured member began to swell.

FELL FOUR STORIES

Young Girl Was Determined to End Her Life.

HAD QUARRELED WITH LOVER

Surprised by Her Mother in the Act of Inhaling Illuminating Gas, She Sprang from Window and Was Dashed to Death.

New York, Sept. 21.—Surprised by her mother in an effort to commit suicide by inhaling illuminating gas through a rubber tube, Theresa Canning, a young telephone operator, threw herself out of an open window and when she was standing and fell four stories to her death.

She was drawing into her lungs the full flow from a gas jet in her bedroom when her mother opened the door.

At the first sight of her mother the girl dropped the tube and leaped out of the window to the pavement below.

A quarrel with her sweetheart is said to have been the cause of the rash act.

JUDGE HOOK DEAD.

One of Georgia's Distinguished Citizens Called to the Beyond.

Atlanta, Sept. 21.—Judge James Schley Hook, former superior court judge, state school commissioner, and associate of Alexander Stephens and Robert Toombs, at the advanced age of 83 years, passed away Thursday night at his home, 521 Courtland St.

Judge Hook had for many years held a prominent place in the esteem of Georgians. He was an impassioned speaker of great persuasive eloquence, and he achieved many important victories at the bar, at a time when he met such men as Alex. and Linton Stephens, Robert Toombs, William M. Reese, the Cummings and Millers, Judge Starnes, Judge Crawford, Hope Hull and other legal lights of that day.

Judge Hook was a man of the highest character, a gentleman of the old school, who throughout a long life preserved the courtly manners and high ideals of the old south. All his life he was a consistent member of the Christian church, in which his father was a distinguished minister.

SUIT FOR $750,000.

Litigation Covering a Period of Half a Century.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 21.—A suit for about $750,000 principal and interest is on trial before Federal Judge R. W. Taylor, here in which James Compton, of Washington, D. C., is plaintiff in an action against the Wabash Railroad company. Compton alleges that prior to the civil war he brought a suit against what is now a part of the Wabash and he sues for the claim with interest covering a period of half a century.

Judson Harmon, of Cincinnati, attorney general in Cleveland's cabinet, appears as counsel for Compton in the case.

The Wabash railroad, through all the years of litigation maintains that it has paid six per cent interest on two mortgages given years ago and has no cash with which to settle the claim of Compton, now nearing 75 years of age.

Troops Arrest Strikers.

Lodz, Russian Poland, Sept. 21.—Troops and police made a sudden secret descent upon the large cotton mill here owned by Marcus Silberstein, who was murdered by his employees September 13, because he refused to pay them for the time they were out on strike. Eight hundred of the workmen were taken into custody.

Chamberlain's Health Improving.

Liverpool, Sept. 21.—John S. Endicott of Boston, who is a brother-in-law of Joseph Chamberlain, left here for Boston on the steamer Saxonia. Before sailing he said Mr. Chamberlain was gaining in strength steadily, and that all his relatives were most pleased with his progress towards good health.

AFTER THE HOBBOES.

New York, Central Will Make It Hot for the Tramps.

New York, Sept. 21.—A notable effect of the approach of cold weather is the exodus of tramps. The park benches are being deserted and the railroads will soon be obliged to deal with the "hobos" problem.

The roads dunning out of New York have seconded the decision of the recent conference of railway boards at Minneapolis that the tramp evil is the most serious in railroad operation today and they have referred the matter to their respective chiefs of police. These chiefs will, therefore, gather in this city in a few days to discuss ways and means of meeting the situation.

The New York Central has made a beginning of dealing with the tramp pest by stationing a hundred young men of tried strength and courage on its main line between here and Albany to keep tramps from boarding trains and committing depredations. The youths are sworn as special officers and were empowered to arraign their prisoners as vagrants.

The Central estimates that it loses $20,000 yearly in freight stolen or destroyed by tramps in its Eleventh avenue yards.

A HOPEFUL BRYAN MAN.

Editor Daniels, of Raleigh, Says He Will Eventually Be Elected.

Washington, Sept. 21.—Editor Joseph Daniels of the Raleigh News and Observer and democratic national committeeman from North Carolina, stopped over in Washington, D. C., long enough to reiterate his preference for Bryan as the standard bearer for the Democracy in 1908.

Mr. Daniels compared himself to the old man back in the Kentucky mountains who had cast his first vote for Henry Clay and had been voting for him ever since. "I am for Bryan," Mr. Daniels continued, "and will keep on being for him. He will be elected some time, and when he gets in he will do the things that we want to do. In the meantime, while he is out, his example and influence work for him for another reason, and that is that the Democrats are for him. He is stronger in Georgia than Hoke Smith, stronger in North Carolina than Glenn, stronger in Texas than Culberson, stronger in Virginia than Daniel, and stronger in Mississippi than John Sharp Williams."

Two Men Killed by Sewer Gas.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 21.—Peter Joyce and Howard Smith, the latter a negro, lost their lives Thursday morning at the bottom of a deep hole being dug to make a sewer connection. Joyce entered the excavation first, and was instantly overcome. Smith, seeing Joyce's plight, immediately went to his rescue, only to be similarly overcome. In succession two other workmen risked their lives in the hope of saving the two at the bottom of the hole. Each of these was lowered into the excavation by ropes, and each just succeeded before losing consciousness in attaching a rope to one of the first two who had gone into the pit, both of whom, however, were dead when brought to the surface.

Died in City Ambulance.

Macon, Ga., Sept. 21.—H. F. Thomas, 35 years of age, died in the city ambulance on the way to the city hospital Thursday afternoon while being taken from his room to the institution for treatment. He suffered a severe case of pneumonia and was very ill. He was unmarried and has several relatives, being a brother of J. E. Thomas. The remains were taken to an undertaker's establishment and embalmed. His case was not considered critical and the death was a surprise even to the attending physician.

Detroit Waitress Kidnaped.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 21.—It was reported to the police Friday that Miss Helen Frenchy, aged 20, a waitress, was kidnaped from her room, at 230 Beacon street, by two men who induced her to go with them by representing themselves as police officers who had orders to take her to police headquarters to be interviewed by the officials there.

TO HUNT BIG GAME

President Roosevelt Leading His Guns For Sport.

PITCH CAMP IN LOUISIANA

Executive Will Enjoy Seventeenth Day in Camp, Nearest Approach to Genuine Vacation He Has Adopted Thus Far.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Far from the scene of official routine, and free from the details attendant upon the responsibilities associated with the office of chief executive, President Roosevelt will enjoy 17 days in camp. This is to be the nearest approach to a genuine vacation that the president has allowed himself. Though occasionally on his vacation at Oyster Bay this summer, there have been but few hours in which official business in some sort has not intruded. A physical and mental recreation as complete as his cares will permit is now arranged.

Big Game in Louisiana

President Roosevelt will pitch his camp in the northwestern corner of Louisiana, on or about Sept. 25. The exact spot is yet to be determined.

The plans provide for a "hunting trip," but every one who knows the eastern Louisiana swamp and the canyons of the great Mississippi river knows that the president is a sportsman of professional caliber.

Those who will have the honor to tune in make pleasant the president's camp expect that the sportsman's camp life will be continuous by a hunt.

While the details of the trip have not been thoroughly worked out, the media features were announced by the rotary club. The president will leave Oyster Bay for Washington next Wednesday, and on Saturday, Sunday will start on the trip and southern sportsmen will be glad to see him.

WIN Start for Game Day

At Memphis, Tenn., on Friday, a speech-making tour will be made and the president will start his camping grounds. He will leave on Oct. 21, going directly to the swamp, Miss., to make his speech there.

The president will be accompanied while in camp of Civil Service Commissioner John A. McPherson, Jr., La., and of John H. Rogers, New Orleans.

Following the speech at Memphis, Oct. 21, the president will continue to make an address at Jackson, Tenn., on the following day. The return to Washington will be immediately after he leaves the White House will be reached on the afternoon of Oct. 22.

Sanitary Conditions in Cuba

Washington, Sept. 21.—The sanitary conditions at the various camps throughout Cuba are being kept according to the report of the chief surgeon of the army of Cuban operations. These conditions, it is said, have steadily improved since the occupation by United States forces. Fifteen deaths occurred during the time, principally from typhoid fever. The ratio of deaths to the number of troops was 3,000 per thousand of the strength.

Prime Bones in a New Sale

New York, Sept. 21.—Miss Emma Calve, the prima donna who arrived in New York on the Pennsylvania, passed her time during the voyage from Gibraltar to making rag dolls and toys for the children in the steerage. Many little immigrant girls will grow up to tell how the French prima donna brought them to America by making dolls. Mrs. Calve made rag dolls and dolls, distributing them to the children herself.

Lowison Summer Hotel Burned

Lowison, Mo., Sept. 21.—The Cobbeconcooter Club, a summer hotel, together with two cottages and outbuildings, a bathhouse and a number of boats, were burned on Thursday. The loss is estimated at $27,000, with insurance for $15,000.

DR. STROUSE HAS CLEAN CHARACTER

Fully Exonerated Of All Charges Against Him.

SO DECLARES FEDERAL JUDGE

Governor Beckham of Kentucky and Bishops Candler and Morrison Made Affidavits as to His High Character
as a Christian Gentleman.

A telegram from Asheville, N. C., to
The Savannah News, under date of September 18th, says:

As a result of the hearing before Judge Fritchard in the United States
court yesterday, the character of Dr.
Clarence B. Strouse was fully vindicated,
the court announcing as its finding
"that Dr. Strouse is a man of high standing and character," and by mutual agreement between the Hendersonville Auditorium Company and Dr.
Strouse, the lease on the auditorium
was ordered cancelled.

This is the final chapter in what at one time promised to be a sensational
case, involving the personal character
of Dr. Strouse, but which was amicably settled by agreement between counsel
for both sides.

Dr. Strouse took the stand in his own defense, and gave a satisfactory
explanation of some of the incidents
alluded to by the opposition. Affidavits
were read from Gov. Beckham
of Kentucky, who stated that he knew
Dr. Strouse to be a Christian gentleman.
Affidavits were also read from Bishops Candler and Morrison, of the Methodist Church, testifying as to Dr.
Strouse's high character. Many other affidavits were introduced.

PLEASANT HOME WEDDING.

Miss Martin and Mr. Maddock Happily
United in State of Matrimony.

There was a quiet home wedding at 11:30 o'clock Thursday morning, when Miss Mary Jeannette Martin and Mr.
E. L. Maddock were happily married.
Rev. Francis H. Craig, pastor of
First Trinity Episcopal church, officiating.

Those were present at this wedding,
which occurred at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Geo. P. Long, Mr.
and Mrs. W. W. Hampton and daughter,
Miss Nina, Misses Nellie Pope
and Jennie Redford, Mrs. F. H.
Craig, H. C. Wiley of Lake City,
and G. B. Maddock of New York,
brother of the groom, who acted as best man and the only attendant upon
the couple.

Miss Martin is well known and popular
here, having resided in Gainesville
for the past few years.

The groom is a well-known young
man of Palatka, where he holds a stagnant position.

Mr. and Mrs. Maddock left immediately
after the ceremony for a bridal trip, after which they will return to Palatka, their future home. Friends wish them a long life of happiness in the conjugal state.

MRS. PALMER'S HOLDING.

North Gainesville Lady Has Good Thing in Silver Stocks.

Mrs. W. E. Palmer of North Gainesville,
according to report, has struck
a good thing in some stock she owns
in a silver mine in Colorado, which is bound to prove of great profit to her later.

It is further stated that a day or two ago Mrs. Palmer was offered a large bonus for her holdings, but prefers
to retain her interest, as she believes
the stock in the near future will produce largely augmented dividends.

WATER WORKS WELL.

Has Reached a Depth of Nearly Three Hundred Feet—Drilling in Rock.

Contractor Allen, who is sinking the deep well for the city at the plant of the Gainesville Waterworks, announces
fine progress, and believes he can remedy the perplexing question of the scarcity of water, which has been staring the people of Gainesville in the face for the past few years, the situation growing worse and worse
on each turn of the calendar year.

The last summer has been one of the most trying of seasons, as far as water was concerned. Notwithstanding that it has been the purpose of Superintendent Miller to give the public
a full and complete service, the water has not been there, caused
more especially by the long and continued
drought.

It was in the season just related that the City Council realized the necessity of doing something, and it was finally decided that the only relief
was to drive a twelve-inch well,
which would supply the deficiency in the demand. Accordingly, the contract was let to Mr. Allen, who went to work and is now making fine progress.

Contractor Allen is now working through a solid bed of rock. His progress is not rapid, but sure, and
he anticipates a supply of water
which will keep the people of Gainesville
from uneasiness in future.

MICANOPY NOTES.

Micanopy, Sept. 19.—H. C. Crawford
is having an addition put to his house. Also recovering the building
all over.

The new hotel is going to have water works in the house, have a
well about eighty or ninety feet deep,
and will have a windmill to bring
the water up and carry it to the tank.

Mrs. J. N. Craig and two daughters,
Annie Laura and Dot, of Tarpon
Springs, are here on a visit to Mrs.
Craig's parents.

Orion Feaster came home last Friday,
after a trip for five weeks, taking
in Norfolk, Jamestown, Washington
and Lynchburg.

Miss Grace Merry is at home from Tampa on a visit to her mother.

Retus Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs.
L. M. Smith of Wacahoota, who was taken very sick while on his way to see Dr. Montgomery last Saturday morning and had to stay in town for several days, was able to be carried home Tuesday. We hope he will continue to improve and soon be well again.

Mrs. W. C. Johnson and children are spending a few days at St. Petersburg
with the former's sister, Mrs. White.

The Melton Lumber Company are having a lot of new machinery put
in that will make their mill one of the most complete in the State. As it is now a fine mill, this will add
quite a lot to its value and convenience.

Attack of Diarrhoea Cured by One Dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera
and Diarrhoea Remedy.

I was so weak from an attack of diarrhoea that I could scarcely attend
to my duties, when I took a dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It cured me entirely and I had been taking other
medicine for nine days without relief.
I heartily recommend this remedy as being the best to my knowledge for bowel complaints.—R. G. Stewart, of BOTTLING WORKS SOLD.

Golden Rule Bottling Works Sold to Scarborough & Dell.

One of the most important business
changes to occur in Gainesville for some time was the transfer Thursday
of the stock and fixtures of the Golden Rule Bottling Works, the industry
having been purchased from Forman & Son, who established the plant and have been successfully
operating the same for several years,
by Chas. M. Dell and Clarence E.
Scarborough, both young men well known and well liked in this section.

The Golden Rule plant is one of the best in this section of the country,
manufacturing many of the leading brands of soft drinks. The firm has enjoyed a fine trade and a fine reputation,
and this will no doubt continue
under the new management. Mr.
Scarborough is a practical bottler,
having followed the trade for some time.

Mr. Newbar's Funeral.

The funeral of Mr. Newbar of Ohio,
who died at the Odd Fellows' Sanitarium
of typhoid fever late Wednesday
afternoon, was held Thursday afternoon,
Rev. T. J. Nixon of the First Methodist church, officiating.

Mr. Newbar's death was an incident of unusual sadness. A young man of the North who had come to this country
from Ohio, securing employment
as a guard in the camp of P. H.
Baker, Campville, contracting the
fever and being sent to the hospital
here by his employer, how he suffered
and how he died without being enabled to get into communication with his relatives, form the data for a sad history.
The young man was given the very best attention here, however, as
Mr. Baker instructed the physicians to spare no expense in looking after him,
which instruction was obeyed.

Notwithstanding repeated efforts to reach his relatives in Ohio, this seemed impossible, and he was buried here.

Cures Hay Fever and Summer Cold.

A. J. Nusbaum, Batesville, Indiana,
writes: "Last year I suffered for three months with a summer cold
so distressing that it interfered with my business. I had many of the symptoms of hay fever, and a doctor's
prescription did not reach my case,
and I took several medicines which
seemed to only aggravate my case.
Fortunately I insisted upon having Foley's Honey and Tar in the yellow
package, and it quickly cured me.
My wife has since used Foley's
Honey and Tar with the same success."

Lost Watch and Money.

A. D. Jernigan of this city, member of the firm of L. A. Jernigan & Son, Jewelers, who is sojourning for a few days at Daytona Beach, was the victim
of an experience a day or two ago which cost him a handsome gold
watch and fob, and a ten-dollar gold
piece which served as a charm.
Mr. Jernigan, with other friends,
was fishing from Keating's pier. In an attempt to throw his line the hook caught in the silk fob, when the watch, fob, money and all were thrown into the ocean. An attempt was later made to secure the valuables,
but at the time of the accident
the tide was high, and it is supposed that the strong undertow swept the treasures away.

A Fine Bull Pup.

C. F. Goodman, the hustling insurance and real estate man, is very fond of dogs, with the result that he
recently ordered, while in Georgia,
a handsome Boston bull pup, "Bullet,"
which has already arrived, and which has caused quite a sensation among dog fanciers here.

"Bullet" is thoroughbred in every sense of the word. He is a bright fellow,
very gentle and affectionate, and
has already become quite a favorite among those who take stock in the canine family. He is from the Wilcox Kennels, Eastman, Ga., and his new master is quite proud of him.

CANCELLED STAMP GOT MAN IN TROUBLE

Well Known Negro Citizen Arrested By Postoffice Inspector.

IS A VERY SERIOUS CHARGE

The Alleged Transaction Only Involved a Two-Cent Stamp. But May Cost Man a Long Term If Charges Against Him Are Proven True.

From Friday's Daily Sun:

Because it is alleged that Joseph Murray, a well-known colored citizen of this city, used a cancelled two-cent postage stamp on a letter, Murray is in trouble, and is now behind the bars of the Alachua county jail awaiting the arrival of a deputy United States marshal, who is expected today, and who will transfer him to the Jacksonville jail.

Murray was arrested Thursday by Chief of Police Benj. T. Arnow upon complaint and instructions from Postoffice Inspector A. B. Brittan, the charge being defrauding the mails.

It is set up in the allegations that Murray a short time ago wrote a letter to a Jacksonville firm, and that in posting the same he used a stamp which had already been cancelled. The situation at present looks a little serious for Murray, and he will be permitted to explain in the United States court in Jacksonville.

CALVIN GILLIS DEAD.

Young Man Well Known Here Dies Suddenly in Atlantic City.

Information has been received through friends in this city, who have received copies of The Asheville (N. C.) Citizen, that Calvin Gillis, a young man formerly of Palatka and well known in this city, had expired suddenly while in bathing at Atlantic City, N. J., a few days ago.

Mr. Gillis, it appears from the note in The Asheville Citizen, of which he was for some time the city editor, and a very popular young man in that city, gives the following information of this sudden death, which has cast a great gloom over his friends, not only in Asheville, but in Florida as well:

"A telegram received here from Atlantic City conveyed the news which will be heard with sadness by many, that Calvin Gillis had dropped dead at that place. A telegram was sent directing the body be sent to Asheville."

"Mr. Gillis was the son of Mrs. Eliza W. Gillis of 124 Montford avenue, and of the late Judge Calvin Gillis, who died here some years ago, and a brother to Miss Waddell Gillis and Donald Gillis. He lived here until 18 months ago, when he removed to Birmingham, and from there he went several months ago to Baltimore. It is presumed that he had made a trip to Atlantic City for a day or two, but as the telegram was not received until late at night, messages sent by Mr. Donald Gillis for details received no answer last night, until the receipt of the Associated Press dispatch."

"Mr. Gillis was a young man 31 years of age and by all to whom he was known he was held in the highest esteem. He was of retiring disposition, but this did not conceal from his friends his true worth and sterling character. He was city editor of The Citizen for several years, and later was connected with Latta, Moore and Chiles, going from them to take the position of Secretary to President Smith of the Land and Industrial Association of Alabama railways. He was a member of Pi-gah Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of this city."

ANOTHER GRAMPUS FOUND.

A Dangerous Bug Picked Up in Vicinity of Dayville.

There is a bug in this section of the country known as the grampus, and, according to all reports, he is a very dangerous sort of an insect. This grampus is a "fellow" who will protrude from a rotten tree, a decayed stump, or any other place where decayed matter is to be found, and before you know yourself, to use the expression, will inflict his sting, which will mean a great deal of trouble to you. His bite is said not to be poisonous, but very painful and annoying.

This grampus was captured near Dayville recently. He was brought to this city, where he is now on exhibition at the store of J. W. McCollum & Co., who placed the bug in alcohol.

It is said that the grampus is a native principally of the banana plant, and is very seldom found outside the confines of its native domain. There have been only two discoveries in this section of the country, the former having been found several years ago by a party on Santa Fe Lake.

The grampus, notwithstanding that it is only an inch and a half long when full grown, has a stinger which protrudes another inch and a half.

If Its a Reputation

You are after, White's Cream Vermifuge has a world wide reputation as the best of all worm destroyers, and for its tonic influence on weak and unthrifty children. It improves their digestion and assimilation of their food, strengthens their nervous system and restores them to health and vigor natural to a child. A New Hotel for Gainesville.

The Brown House Annex has been leased by Mr. and Mrs. R. Daigre and they are busy having the building thoroughly renovated and cleaned.

Col. B. A. Thrasher, who owns the building, has recently had the house painted inside and out and has carpenters busy now building a porch on the front of the building, which will add much to the appearance of same.

It will be several weeks before the house is ready for opening, but when it is opened and ready for business Mr. and Mrs. Daigre propose to conduct as nice and up-to-date little hotel as can be found in the State. The entire house will be furnished with new furniture.

Rheumatism.

When pains or irritation exist on any part of the body, the application of Ballard's Snow Liniment gives prompt relief. E. W. Sullivan, Prop. Sullivan House, El Reno, O. T., writes, June 6, 1902: "I take pleasure in recommending Ballard's Snow Liniment to all who are afflicted with rheumatism. It is the only remedy I have found that gives immediate relief." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

CLERK-CARRIER EXAMINATION.

Will Be Held Here Today—A Dozen Applicants Entered.

From Saturday's Daily Sun

The examinations for clerk-carrier of the Gainesville postoffice will be held in this city today, beginning at 9:00 o'clock. It will be conducted in the council room at the City Hall building.

The examination will be conducted by E. Paul Brown, local secretary of the board.

The position sought pays from $600 to $900 per year, according to the grade and time of service. Of the twelve applicants, only three are white, which shows the neglect of opportunity of the white boy in this progressive age. Nobody is to blame, however, but the boy.

A Solemn Proceeding.

From Saturday's Daily Sun.

On Sunday there will be a solemn proceeding at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Royal Cook, the occasion being the circumcision of their son.

A Rabbi has been secured from Jacksonville, and the occasion will be attended by all the solemnity required for the rites of circumcision.

Mrs. Cook and the son are doing finely, and it is expected that the ceremonies will pass off in a fitting manner.

Mr. Cook good-naturedly declares that "that boy" will be a winner. He was born on Sunday and will be circumcised on Sunday, hence he must be lucky for the balance of his life.

General Robert E. Lee

Was the greatest general the world has ever known. Ballard's Snow Liniment is the greatest Liniment. Quickly cures all pains. It is within the reach of all. T. H. Pointer, Hempstead, Texas, writes: "This is to certify that Ballard's Snow Liniment has been used in my household for years and has been found to be an excellent Liniment for Rheumatic pains. I am never without it." Sold by W. M. Johnson.

An Exciting Runaway.

The people of the usually quiet, but bustling suburb of North Gainesville, were aroused at a late hour Wednesday afternoon by a runaway, the horse attached to the buggy of Col. I. E. Webster having decided to do a "stunt" for the entertainment of those in that neighborhood.

While Col. Webster was in the Keystone Bakery talking to R. T. Schafer the animal made a sudden dash, and within a few hundred feet had so completely demolished the vehicle that it will have to be sent to the shop for repairs.

How to Avoid Appendicitis.

Most victims of appendicitis are those who are habitually constipated. Death of Mr. Landen.

Information has been received in this city of the death of Mr. Oliver Landen, which occurred at his home in Washington, D. C., a few days ago.

Deceased was the father of Mrs. F. C. Crown of Rocky Point, and friends of Mrs. Crown express deepest sympathy for her in this hour of bereavement.

S.S.S. A CERTAIN SAFE TREATMENT

Even if mercury and potash could cure Contagious Blood Poison the condition in which these strong minerals leave the system would make the cure worse than the disease. But they can't cure the disease; they can only cover up the symptoms for awhile or mask the disease in the system, but as soon as the treatment is left off the hideous symptoms return. Mercury and potash eat out the delicate lining of the stomach and bowels, cause dyspepsia by drying up the gastric juices, cause the teeth to decay, and often completely break down the constitution, and when they are used in large quantities, the bones become affected, while the disease for which one has so long taken this destructive treatment has not been cured. Contagious Blood Poison is a disease it will not do to trifling with. It is a vile, dangerous and destructive disorder. When the blood becomes infected with its virus the mouth and throat ulcerate, hair and eyebrows come out, glands in the neck and groin swell, copper-colored spots appear on the flesh, and in severe cases sores break out on the body, the finger nails drop off and the sufferer is diseased from head to foot. S. S. S. is the only known antidote for Contagious Blood Poison—the one remedy that is able to get to the root of the disease and force out every particle of the poison so that there are never any signs of its return. It is purely vegetable, made entirely from roots, herbs and barks of known medicinal value. Instead of leaving bad after-effects as some medicines do, S. S. S. tones up every part of the system and puts every part of the body in perfect health. It will also remove any lingering effects of former mineral treatment while eradicating the poison from the circulation. Special book on the treatment of this disease and any medical advice desired furnished free to all who write.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Special Correspondence The Daily Sun

Washington, D. C., Sept. 19.—At this time the principal turn on the political stage appears to be Burton and Johnson in their new sketch, "The Mayor of Cleveland," or "Who Will Be It." When Theo. E. Burton, our lovely and congenial pork dispenser of river and harbor appropriations, announced his candidacy for the next mayoralty of Cleveland, there was a fanfare of trumpets and an assertion that no less a personage than Roosevelt himself had asked him to sacrifice his Congressional status and try to be the mayor of the Cleveland town. Not a few people appeared to be from Missouri, and wanted to know why a man like Burton, who really has been an immense credit to his State and the country at large, should sacrifice the prestige he had gained as a member of the National Congress and run for mayor in a town like Cleveland. It finally settled down to the impression that Burton had his eye on, and had been measured for a senatorial toga, and that it was wisdom for him to go back a little for the prospects of the future. But then came Roosevelt's announcement that he had no intention whatever of interfering in the Cleveland mayoralty fight. Then everybody knew that something was up. Now it appears that the administration feels the necessity of bolstering up a lost cause, and someone had to be brought forward, possibly as a sacrifice, to snatch victory where defeat means much. To understand the situation in Cleveland, let us explain:

Tom L. Johnson has been mayor twice over, and expects to be it the third time. After each victory he has strengthened the machine so that it is next to Tammany Hall in New York, the strongest machine in the country—a Democratic buttress in a Republican camping ground. He is what you would call an aggressive man, not a radical. His machine is constructed under popular favor, and is the result of appeals to the public, largely upon the regulation of municipal corporations and establishment of a three-cent fare on railroad lines. Do not confound this with socialism, for such is not the case. The business interests of Cleveland, fearful that Johnson, if again elected, would put into effect municipal policies that would be detrimental to their interests, and judging that the margin of safety had been reached, enlisted the aid of the administration to beat Johnson, which of course necessitated the nominating of a man who was of a political calibre much too large for a mere mayor. No one appeared to have the prestige that Burton has, and besides, with his known senatorial aspirations, two birds might be killed with one stone—and that thorn in the administration flesh, Foraker, might be retired with honor. So Burton yielded and accepted. Now what will happen is this: If Burton wins, well and good—and fine. Taft will receive a mighty support, and Foraker will be retired when the proper time comes. But what if he loses? The administration, and the administration's "favorite son" are apt to go down in the general wreck and a staggering blow directed at the Republican ramparts in the Middle West. Johnson has an immensely strong hold on Cleveland, and many supporters outside of that big city. Should he win, while he would not displace Bryan from the pedestal of Democratic hopes and favor, he would easily be the second man, and Bryan and Johnson would not go at all bad together. He would make Bryan millions of votes where others would make thousands. It would, indeed, be strange to see Roosevelt, himself termed a radical, fighting a radical, an applier to the public—and yet circumstances alter cases—Johnson, as stated before, is a Democrat in a Republican stronghold.

One by one the members of the administration family are returning to the fold. Secretary Oscar S. Straus is one of the officials who believe that they can accomplish more by getting into personal contact with the supervisory heads of his big department than by sitting quietly at his desk. He has been on an extended trip to the Pacific Coast and the Hawaiian Islands. His short stay at the islands was exceptionally pleasant, and he listened with good grace to the needs of the islanders. He says that some reforms are needed, and he intends to do what he can to see that they are accomplished. He discreetly refused to say anything about the Vancouver trouble with the Japs, but he is evidently doing a lot of thinking.

one to return, and already rumor is busy as to his possible resignation. It is said that there was a miscarriage between the White House and Metcalf as to the sending of the battleship fleet to the Pacific and that Metcalf may feel it incumbent to tender his resignation.

All eyes are centered just at present on the remarkable run of the new giant Cunarder Lusitania on her maiden trip across the pond. The British boast that "Britannia rules the waves" received a severe shock when the Hamburg-American liner Deutschland lowered the trans-Atlantic record, a few years ago, and gave to Germany the proud ownership of the "Queen of the Seas." Great Britain, however, not to be outdone, loaned the Cunard Line the money necessary to build the Lusitania, which was built for speed alone, and ordinarily carries only about 700 tons of freight—not as much as many of our ordinary river steamers.

The Lusitania has four screws, rotated by turbine engines of 75,000 horsepower, steam being supplied by 192 furnaces, which eat up 7,000 tons of coal each trip. The boat is 790 feet long and 88 feet wide, and has five decks, communication with which is had by means of electrical elevators. They say you can play billiards in her saloon, so steady is she. Well, here's luck. The Americans haven't many steamships. What they have are slow, but we are supplying the world's markets, and when we get the foreigners educated to American products, we will go right after the American boats to haul them, and when we build an ocean steamer to smash all records, we will have a boat 550 feet long, 100 feet wide, six screws, 90,000 horsepower, and a speed of thirty-eight miles an hour. It will be just like Uncle Sam to do something like that—for we can't be beat.

COMPETITION LIFE OF TRADE.

"The axiom 'competition is the life of trade' must be disregarded if we are to progress. The obvious tendency of the age is to combine. We are drifting toward a world-wide financial federation."—From address of Chairman Knapp of the Interstate Commerce Commission to the American Association of Freight Traffic Managers.

Mr. Knapp is wrong. There was never a time, says The Wall Street Journal, when there was more need of that kind of competition which is the life of trade than today. It is only competition which is the death of trade that needs to be abolished. That is probably what Mr. Knapp means.

What must be disregarded if we are to have progress is the abuse of competition. This takes various forms. In its worst form it amounts to trade anarchy, to unlimited, unrestricted, ruinous, cutting of trade throats, a competition like that of savagery. In that form competition is as far removed from being the life of trade as it could possibly be.

Another thing to be disregarded is complete, absolute, oppressive monopoly, which is competition annihilated. That is a state of tyranny, and is repugnant to the thought and ambition of our people. Competition that is the life of trade stands midway between these two extremes. It is competition regulated by common sense and common decency. It is competition which gives play to individual liberty and at the same time pays regard to the rights of others. It is competition based upon the live-and-let-live theory. It is a competition which seeks to prevent trade anarchy by reasonable trade agreements, which, while serving to preserve the peace and order of the industrial body, at the same time do not go to the point of creating monopoly.

Unquestionably, Chairman Knapp is right in stating that the tendency of the age is toward a world-wide financial federation. But such a federation will mean something very different from the discarding of competition which is the life of trade. The political federation which exists in the United States unites forty-six different States under a central government; but it does not prevent competition between the different States; it only regulates that competition and prevents it from disturbing the peace and order of the country.

The true financial federation will establish an even balance between monopoly and trade anarchy by creating a combination of those things which are essential to industrial order, and permitting the widest liberty as

CHINA'S ONLY FRIEND.

It seems, according to letters received from China, that the great British Empire is turning once more to the United States as being the only friend it has left on the map. This is largely due to the action of President Roosevelt in remitting part of the Boxer indemnity, the blood money that was exacted from China at the time of the Boxer rebellion for killing foreigners and putting the allied powers to the expense of sending an expedition to Peking to keep order in the country. The indemnity exacted was far beyond the actual outlay of the powers, and after China had paid several installments and time had softened the resentment of this country, as time does in almost all cases, the President announced that he was willing to remit about $40,000,000 of the indemnity still due the United States. This was last spring. The announcement was made just at the time that the Chinese minister, Sir Chen Tung Liang Cheng, started back home. Since then the boycott against American goods in China has quietly died out, and now that China is in need of a friend she is turning to the United States.

The trouble that China finds herself in now is principally with Japan, but incidentally with the most of the European powers. Japan has been encroaching on Chinese territory in Manchuria, and there are symptoms that the other powers are looking forward to the partition of the Empire which was once averted by the diplomacy of John Hay when he was the American Secretary of State. Now that the same trouble is arising again, China is turning to the United States as the one friend of the under dog and a power that has no axe to grind. The situation will help American trade in China, and thus far will be a reward of forbearance, but whether the United States can avert the partition of the great weak Empire is a serious question.

If Tammany doesn't settle the quarrel between Murphy and Mayor McClellan it will wield no influence whatever at the Democratic National Convention next summer; and that, you know, has always been Tammany's strong play. Just now it is a house divided against itself. McClellan will give it no city patronage and Leader Murphy has been so selfish in the past that he has disgruntled many of the assembly district bosses who live and thrive off patronage. Just now Murphy has the fight of his career to hold his followers together, because since it is virtually settled that there will be no recount McClellan is pretty sure to remain mayor until his term expires, and the Murphy element sees the hopelessness of expecting any patronage for their spoils. Grover Cleveland (who is Mayor McClellan's neighbor in Princeton) has advised him to be independent of Tammany. That has split Tammany's organization; and if some peace pact doesn't come about in the next twelve months Tammany will cut no figure whatever in the next National Democratic Convention. The general belief in New York is that there will be a stampede from Murphy to the Mayor.

"Those people out on the Pacific Coast, most of whom are Republicans," says The Live Oak Democrat, "are now yelling with one accord and at the top of their voices, 'this is a white man's country and we intend to keep it so.' But when the South said the same under pressure of a problem immeasurably more difficult and threatening than any brought to the Pacific Coast by a handful of Japanese, it was brutal and barbarous in us, abhorrent to our system of government, a cruel wrong to the poor negroes, and we deserved the heavy hand of Federal authority upon us to teach us humanity and civilization. People outside the South are getting a dose of the racial question now, which they have needed for fifty years, and to gore them deep and strong is the only way to drive any sense into them on the issue."

Dispatches from Oyster Bay report that Mr. Roosevelt is busy writing speeches. Great men never write speeches. Just think of St. Paul or Demosthenes writing an essay, and calling it a speech. But it is all right for Roosevelt to write something and submit it to Root or Bonaparte for revision. He has made so many blunders in his books and messages that he has learned caution. Evidently he has not forgotten the recent Claude Barks case.

Bean campaign fund, but the Republican managers have never restored a dollar. Senator Depew now says such contributions will be made and that the Republican politicians are not notable for a high regard for their promises, presumably made in return for the corruption funds. When the Republican managers promised that the immunity for Harriman and other rebate law breakers, or whether the bankers were promised the use of all the surplus money in the treasury, can only be surmised by the fact that both those interests have received such favors from the administration yet still from what Senator Depew says, other promises made by the politicians have not been regarded. Those who voted against Judge Parker because they believed President Roosevelt rather than Parker, certainly owe him the amende honorable.

The Republicans are getting into a worse and worse mess through the further exposures by The New York World of the corruption fund furnished by Harriman, Depew and the Wall Street interests for the Roosevelt campaign in 1904. The large sums flicked from the widow and orphans' funds of the life insurance policy holders, which Treasurer Bliss of the Republican National Committee collected and Chairman Cortelyou expended, cannot be explained away. In fact, all that Judge Parker claimed before the election, which President Roosevelt denied, is gradually proving to be true, and no attempt at restitution has been made, except that Mr. Perkins of the Morgan banking company paid back to the New York Life the $50,000 that he had ordered paid to the Repub-

Judge Syd L. Carter, chairman of the committee which is investigating the doings of the Internal Improvement Board, would make the State of Florida an excellent Attorney-General, and The Record believes that he could have the place for the asking. There is a no more able, fearless nor more patriotic citizen in all Florida than Judge Syd L. Carter of Alachua. For years he was State's Attorney for the fifth judicial circuit, now the eighth, and made a record there which would serve him well were he to consent to the use of his name for the office of Attorney-General. The Record nominates him for the position.—Fernandina Record.

It has been reported that work on the Florida East Coast extension would be abandoned South of Knight's Key, which was claimed would be the terminus of the road. It is now announced on what purports to be good authority that Mr. Flagler has no intention of abandoning his original purpose of pushing the road through to Key West. There has been suspension of work at some points for various reasons, but the general plan, as concerns the completed work, will be adhered to. We hope this report is true. The road to Key West is a great work and we want to see it enter the Island City.—Lakeland News.

That is sad news which comes from Bartow to the effect that E. M. Canova, the bright young editor of The Polk County Record, has broken down under the strain of overwork and his mind has become unbalanced. Let us hope that his trouble is only temporary and that with entire relief from work and in a new and pleasant environment in the home of relatives to which he has been taken, his harried nerves will be restored and the shadow pass from his mind.—Live Oak Democrat.

Ex-Governor W. D. Bloxham and Mrs. Gertrude M. Norvell of Dallas, Texas, were quietly married at Selem, Va., on the 18th inst. The many friends of Governor Bloxham extend heartfelt congratulations and wish him and his new help-mate much happiness. The couple will return to Tallahassee in a few weeks, where they will make their future home.

The Punta Gorda Herald says: "Let's leave the railroads alone long enough to have a few legal brickbats at the fire insurance trust. If there is an uncurbed trust in the United States, it is the well-known combination of the fire insurance companies; and why nothing is said or done about it, passes understanding."

Candidates for county offices are already announcing in some sections of the State. They evidently believe the old adage that "the

tant conventions ever held in Florida,
and it will convene in Gainesville.

This convention will be the annual meeting of the postmasters of the fourth class (not fourth-class postmasters) of Florida, and Postmaster Lynch, as well as members of the committee which has been selected
to entertain the delegates, promise
one of the most interesting times in the history of the city.

The committee has had several meetings and appointed sub-committees who will look after the comfort
and convenience of the visiting postmasters.

The delegates will comprise postmasters of the fourth class from every town in the State. It will be an aggregation of intellect and character,
and the people of Gainesville propose
to extend to them every hospitality.

The meetings will be held in the Elks' Club, through the courtesy of
that order, and the address of welcome will be delivered by Dr. Andrew Shedd is a fine speaker, with an in-
Florida, on Tuesday afternoon. Dr.
Shedd is a fine speaker, with an important tone, and is bound to make
a fine impression on his hearers.

The committee will take charge
of the delegates, and they will be taken in carriages to the various places of interest in the city.

Gainesville will feel honored to en-
tain such men as the fourth class
postmasters of Florida.

POUND WILL BE BUILT.

Marshal Arnow Instructed to Purchase Lumber and Build Pound.

On Thursday The Sun contained a
notice to the effect that the marshal
and night officer were tired chasing cows from the University lot to the pound, which is located on East Magnolia street, immediately west
of the county jail, and that another pound was needed in West Gainesville.

This notice seems to have had the desired effect, as the authorities have given Marshal Arnow the authority to purchase the lumber and have erected a pound on West Liberty, which will be located opposite the Tampa and Jacksonville depot, on the corner of Fifth street.

The construction of this pound will probably prove of great benefit to the people of West Gainesville who have been troubled with loafing cows.

MICANOPY NOTES.

Micanopy, Sept. 21.—Dr. Montgomery and wife left Wednesday on a trip to Jamestown, Washington and other places. They expect to be away
a few days or longer.

Mr. and Mrs. Barr and their grandson, John Barr Watkins, have returned from their summer outing.
They spent most of their time in Franklin, N. C.

Mr. Baynard left yesterday for Jacksonville, where he went to meet
his wife and daughter, who have been away several weeks on a visit to relatives in Delaware and Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Dr. Chowning and sister, from Lawthorn, came on a business trip
to Micanopy on Monday and remained until Tuesday. Both are charming ladies, and made a good impression on all who had the pleasure of meeting them.

The young folks were to have a midnight pillow on Lake Tusculum
last night, but it being too damp
for the rainstorm, it was moved to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Simonson, where they had a most delightful
time.

School will begin here on the 30th
and then the youngsters will have settled down to work.

SEA ISLAND COTTON.

Savannah Market Quite Active During Week Closing September 20.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 21.—The first activity on regular orders for the new season in Sea Islands was noted
during the past week. About the middle of the week an extended demand for the new crop sprang up on a basis of 30 cents for fancies, and 29 cents for extra choice. Factors, after fully considering the value of
the crop, decided to meet these prices,
which were around expectations, as mentioned last week. Last season the market opened at 22 cents for fancies.
The demand for the past three days
was sufficient to absorb practically all of the new crop Sea Islands which have reached this market—amounting to about 250 bales—and also to make inroads on the remnant of the old crop. The new crop is found to have a remarkable staple and to be good for the most part. The week closed
with the market firm, but the permanency of the opening price levels has yet to be more fully determined, dependent largely on the size of the crop.

The following prices are based on
factors' quotations:

NORTH GAINESVILLE TRUCKING.

This Industry is Growing Rapidly in That Section.

Truck farming, which has always been an important industry in North Gainesville, is enlarging in its proportions, and ere long the truckers
of North Gainesville will be among the first of the State, according to reports.

L. A. Means, who has for the past two or three years made a remarkable success in the growing of lettuce,
and who is regarded as one of the most successful truckers in this section, has felt so good over his last
efforts that he has decided to try
another two acres under the irrigation process, with the result that he has let the contract, and the additional irrigation is now being laid.

J. J. Freeze, who has also made quite a success at trucking, is laying
a plant for irrigation of one acre on his place in North Gainesville, and from this Mr. Freeze expects to make a good thing the coming season.

North Gainesville is proving a good section for those who desire to engage in the trucking business, and those who are more ambitious are
now resorting to extensive irrigation.

BRADLEY—SMITH.

Marriage of Two Popular Young People at Wacaboota Wednesday.

On Wednesday evening, at the home
of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
L. M. Smith, J. W. Bradley and Miss Marion Smith were happily united
in the holy bonds of matrimony, Rev.
Mr. Barr of Micanopy officiating.

The wedding was a quiet home affair, but was attended by a number
of friends of the contracting parties.

The groom is a well-known young
man in his section, being the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Bradley. He is as young man of fine character, and is liked by all who know him. The bride is too well known to require an introduction, as she was reared at Wacaboota, and numbers her friends
only by her acquaintances.

The Sun, with other friends, wishes
Mr. and Mrs. Bradley a long and happy married life.

NEWS OF CITY AND COUNTY CONDENSED

From Sunday's Daily Sun.

Captain C. B. McClenney and son,
Louis C., were in the city from Cadillac yesterday. The latter was enroute to Astor, where for the past two years he has been engaged in the logging business. Having finished the contract there, he will now wind
up his business affairs. Mr. McClenney is a very ambitious and progressive young man, and will make success in every avocation he undertakes.

Capt. J. J. Beckham, formerly of Waldo and one of the most widely known railroad conductors that ever
yanked a bell cord in Florida, as well
as one of the most popular, was in town yesterday on his way to Cedar Key, where he and his wife will spend Sunday. Captain Joe has been running as conductor on the Southern Railway from Columbia for the past two years, and is on his annual vacation. He and his wife will spend a week at White Springs before returning to Columbia. His many friends are glad to see him, as well
as his estimable wife.

Eugene M. Sanchez, for many years
connected with the Clyde Steamship Company in Jacksonville, but for the past year and a half with Foster &
Reynolds, general real estate and advertising agents, with headquarters
in Havana, is in the city. Eugene is here on a visit to his uncle, Col. E.
C. F. Sanchez. Few young men in the State are more widely known or more popular. Mr. Sanchez is possessed of that genial, amiable disposition which is bound to make friends
for him, with the result that he gains popularity everywhere. He has just returned from his annual vacation,
and is stopping here for a day or two
on his way back to Cuba from Canada
and the New England States.

AN IMPORTANT ARREST.

Deputy Sheriff Arrested Man Wanted
for Assault in Wakulla County.

Deputy Sheriff I. T. Walker made an important arrest at Tyler Saturday,
the party being Henry Williams,
wanted upon a charge of assault with intent to murder at Crawfordville, Wakulla county.

Williams has been employed by the Tyler Lumber Company for some time, and evidently thought that he was safe at that place. However, information and a description of the man came from the sheriff of Wakul-
la, and he was hunted down and placed under arrest.

Williams is now in jail here, and
an officer is expected for him today
or tomorrow.

Officers Placed Under Arrest.

Monday, Sept. 21.—Captain James
R. Lindsay and Captain Henry S. W.
part, both of the Thirtieth infantry,
have been arrested by Col. Douglas borough, their commanding officer, on the charge of participating in a fight
on board the ferry transport Logan,
lying in quarantine at Nariveles, enroute to San Francisco.

TERRIFIC SPEED OF AUTOMOBILE RACING

Sensations of Man Behind Wheel
In Great Automobile Contest.

LABOR OF BRAIN AND MUSCLE

Driver Must Depend Entirely Upon
His Five Senses—Must Leave Behind Him Every Thought of Danger,
Adopting the Philosophy of Fatalist.

(Written Especially for The Sun by Bernard Lichtenbaum.)

Motor car racing is a strenuous business. It is not play for children, nor does it contain the elements of a pink tea. It is hard work, and requires labor of brain and muscle and tact and skill from start to finish. When a human being travels on a racing car at the rate of two miles, or even a mile a minute, in competition, depending entirely upon his five senses and a mute companion for guidance, staking his nerve and judgment, his experience or inexperience with the course, against a thousand chances of disaster or worse, he is presumably playing with death. Does he realize or remember it at the time? Never—if he wishes to win.

A number of persons have asked me questions about the sensations one experiences and the penalties one pays for racing—and is the game worth the candle. This is my reply:

Most of the drivers in the race are mere salaried employees of automobile manufacturers. If one of them wins he will receive a substantial money reward. This explains in part, but in small part only. What of the other competitors, Foxhall Keene, Walter Christie, George Heath, men of large means, of habits of luxury; men who have everything which tends to make it worth while to stay alive? Is it simply the sportsman's love of victory and its glory? This and more. All of them are fascinated by the holding of immense power and speed within the hollow of the hand. Do they think of the danger of death while racing? Assuredly not, or they could not drive. Even the mechanic who sits beside the driver in the racing car may not think of the risk, or he could not ride there and play his part. The risk is so great that if the imagination is allowed to dally with it the fear will be paralyzing. Then there is the element, the fear, of sudden death. Naturally different persons have different ideas and degrees of fear when it comes to swift annihilation, but it would be courting destruction in the surest and unsafest way to permit oneself to ponder seriously about it.

Next, no man has any business to enter a racing car unless he can leave behind him absolutely every thought of danger. He should adopt the philosophy of the fatalist, and then attend exclusively to the game. Tires that run true at twenty miles an hour may and do burst at the pressure of sixty to seventy miles. Axles that are rigid at low speed, may and do snap like brittle glass when the race is on. Stones or surface impediments that merely jostle the driver in his car going at ordinary speed, make a commensurate automobile when it is doing ninety miles an hour. Ruts that would only stop a machine going slowly, upset one going very rapidly. Brakes may fail of performing their duty, a cylinder may crack, or one of many accidents may happen in the best regulated machines with disastrous consequences—and to that extent the driver must unquestionably stake and hold his life in his hand when mounting his car for a great race.

To the bystanders the passing of a car is like a sweep of a meteor; on comes the monster with the cylinder explosions like the reports of a piece of rapid fire artillery. Then, as the car comes abreast and sweeps past, come reports, though booming louder, are overborne by the tremendous swishing noise, caused by the rush with which the air was elct by the car and by the grunting of its wheels on the ground. After the big machine has hurried by the majority of those at the stands gaspingly inquire of their neighbors, "Who was it?" It was simply a streaking something to them, although the car has a huge number painted in white on its front and sides.

After all, the answer to the question makes very little difference to most of them, as it makes little to them who win the race, aside from a desire to see the reward of victory go to the most skillful and most daring. This crowd is hungry to see how near a man may come to being killed and yet escape.

SERMONETTES

BY J. MARVIN NICHOLS

Naked and not ashamed—Me and Adam.

Control thought and you control destiny.

Time has no mortgage on the human soul.

Who are you? Answer that, and shrivel up.

The capacity to wait is no small mark of greatness.

Whatever interests a child is of interest to all mankind.

A man is never any more than what he really believes.

Don't tell other people what they should do—do it yourself.

Get busy, old man! That's the shibboleth in this good age.

Quality—not quantity—is what we want when we invest in children.

I despise the fellow that's all the time letting people feel of him.

Your words cannot be immortal unless you strike the dominant passion.

Set your shoulder joyously to your wheel of destiny and "keep a-comin'."

The one thing needful in our mad rush for things is rest—time to think.

To try hard and fail splendidly is infinitely better than never to have tried at all.

Generally the fellow who doesn't know anything about the real is following the fake.

There are vastly more men who miss opportunities than there are men who lack them.

Some folks are afraid they will spoil their children by making them too happy. What fools.

Beat the other fellow at his job, and one of these mornings you'll wake up famous—you'll be boss.

Success is not half so much a matter of talent as it is of concentration and dogged persistence.

Some men's education seems to be of no more use to them than a safety razor at a negro picnic.

Your right to do as you please is always limited by the freedom of others to do the very same thing.

In what respect is the dependent woman in the parlor superior to the dependent man? Can you say?

This old world is so infinitely wide—there's room for you. The tides of the sea come and go—why worry?

The late exhibitions of debauchery among the rich leads us to believe that poverty keeps many a man good.

After all the man who said that the man who owns enough of this world's goods to keep him from dirt, debt and hunger, has a thousand chances of avoiding evil against that of the man whom the demon of discouragement drags through depths from which it is almost impossible to escape without severe demoralization of body, mind and spirit.

BURGLAR CHOKED WOMAN

Tried to Make Her Tell Where Valuables Were Concealed.

Bedford, Ind., Sept. 20.—With intent not only to rob, but to murder, if necessary, a burglar entered the residence of A. C. Voss, the aged president of the Citizens' National bank in the morning hours.

The burglar entered through the second story window of a room occupied by Miss Irma Guthrie, a domestic. She was awakened by the robber, who choked her nearly to death, demanding money and also to know where her employers kept their jewels and money.

With hands tightly clasped around her throat he made repeated threats to kill her if she made any outcry. The turmoil, the woman fighting for her life, awakened the family and neighbors, whereupon the burglar fled, securing but little booty.

Voss has been ill, and this evidently was known by the burglar.

Miss Guthrie's throat is badly swollen and discolored, as she was choked until the blood steamed from her mouth.

FAST MAIL IS WRECKED.

Several Persons Injured in Accident on
New York Central.

Utica, N. Y., Sept. 20.—The fast mail, westbound, on the New York Central railroad, was wrecked about five miles east of this city at about 8:45 Thursday morning.

Several persons were reported as injured.

It was stated at the office of the New York Central railroad that the train wrecked was a newspaper and mail train which left New York for Buffalo at 3:05 a. m. A few miles east of Utica the train ran into two freight cars which had been derailed by the breaking of a freight train on the east-bound track. The engine and one mail car of the mail train were derailed, and the engineer, John Eberlee, was injured. There was one passenger coach in the mail train, and its occupants were reported officially to be unhurt, as were also the other train hands.

She Found Relief.

If you are troubled with liver complaint and have not received help read this. Mrs. Mary E. Hammond, Moody, Texas: "I was in poor health—with liver trouble—for over a year. Dead Body of Woman Found.

Troy, Ala., Sept. 19.—The dead and partly nude body of Georgia Brooks, who lived in the northeastern part of the city, was found in Henderson's woods about a quarter of a mile from her home Wednesday. On Tuesday night three shots were heard from the vicinity in which the body was found, and the examination of the body disclosed the fact that she had been shot three times with a revolver. There is no clew to the murderer.

Daring Attempt to Rob Bank.

Montreux, Switzerland, Sept. 20.—Two Russians, whose identity has not been established, made a daring attempt in broad daylight to rob the local bank. They entered the building, shot and killed the cashier, seized the cash box and fled. A crowd of people gave chase to the robbers, who fired at and wounded four of their pursuers before they were captured.

Lame Back.

This is an ailment for which Chamberlain's Pain Balm has proved especially valuable. In almost every instance it affords prompt and permanent relief. Mr. Luke LaGrange of Orange, Mich., says of it: "After using a plaster and other remedies for three weeks for a bad lame back, I purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and two applications effected a cure." For sale by all druggists.

What Has Happened and What is Going to Happen Told in Short Paragraphs So That "He Who Runs May Read" It in This Sun.

From Friday's Daily Sun.

Mrs. C. L. Smith has gone to Hague, where she is visiting her sister for a few days.

Dr. and Mrs. Durand of Cedar Key spent yesterday in this city as guests of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Hester of Bradenton were among those who spent yesterday in Gainesville.

Black Salsman, a well-known and successful contractor of McIntosh, was transacting business in this city yesterday.

Harry Kendall has returned from New York, where he has been for the past few weeks on a visit to relatives and friends.

Mr. W. P. Garrett and Mrs. H. G. Garbert and child are at home again, after a few weeks delightfully spent at points in North Carolina.

E. M. Beach, agent of the Atlantic Coast Line, has returned from Washington and New York, where he has been on his annual vacation.

E. J. Sheline has returned from a business trip to High Springs, Gainesville, Starke and other points, where he has been absent for the past few days.

Edmund Wilson has returned from the Mountain Expedition, Richmond, the Apalachian mountain resorts and points in Virginia, where he has spent the past few weeks pleasantly.

Thomas Frank Evans and Chester Wilson have returned from Daytona Beach, where they have been enjoying the sunbathing and bathing and the ocean for the past few days.

E. A. Whitaker of Camden, S. C., has been here for the past few days looking after matters concerning the Whitaker estate, left for his son yesterday. Mr. Whitaker was accompanied with Gainesville on his return here.

Mr. and Mrs. Sals—These pair are making, and to 100 pounds, five to six years ago, and guaranteed in every respect. Also, some gentle and work horses for sale. Address George F. Smith Transfer Company, Jacksonville, Fla.

A. A. Walls of Newberry, who stopped here for a day with friends on his return from Baton Rouge, Ala., to his home, yesterday morning. Mr. Walls is a young man of entertaining disposition, and has many friends among the younger set in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes and children have returned from North Carolina. The Rhodes and children have been in Asheville for the past few weeks, having been joined there by Mr. Rhodes about three weeks ago. Friends are glad to see them home again.

Mrs. J. A. McIlwain, who has been visiting friends at Alachua for the past few days, has gone to White Springs, where she expects to remain for a few days before returning home. Mrs. McIlwain's friends will be glad to learn that she is enjoying her visit thoroughly.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Coffey, who are spending a few weeks at their old home, Glasgow, Ky., have received letters to the effect that they are enjoying their visit to the fullest extent. They state that the weather in Kentucky at this season is very fine, and that clean and overcoats are necessary to combat at times.

Mr. and Mrs. George Landers, who have been residing on North Pleasant street, have moved into a cottage on West Liberty street, where they are now pleasantly located. It is understood that Mrs. Judge Merabon and some of Fernandina, who recently removed here, will occupy the cottage vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Landers.

Geo. K. Broome has returned from points in North Carolina, where he has been for the past few weeks with Mrs. Broome and Miss Marguerite Stringfellow. Mrs. Broome and Miss Stringfellow expect to remain in that State for the next two or three weeks. They have been greatly benefited by their sojourn, which will be pleasing information to their friends.

Col. H. J. Dutton returned yesterday, after an absence of about two months. Col. Dutton included in his travels a trip to Europe, where he has been accustomed to go at regular intervals.
